The Hour of Code is a worldwide event run to promote coding. Over 150 million people from the ages of 4 to 104 are taking part by learning an hour of code between Dec 7th - Dec 13th. Colaiste Choilm is hosting an hour of code during classes as part of the almost 350 schools and institutions organising an event.
Particpation is free at Code.org - so try just 60 minutes this week on one of the tutorials from Star Wars to Minecraft to Frozen to Flappy Bird.
